A Year of Resilience, Partnership, and Impact

Mike Kapono Stancil

Executive Director, Daly City Partnership

As we reflect on the past year at the Daly City Partnership, I am continually inspired by the strength, compassion, and unwavering solidarity that define our community. Every day, our neighbors step up for one another, and it is the privilege of our entire team to walk alongside them—bridging gaps, fostering opportunity, and ensuring that every individual and family in Daly City, Colma, and Broadmoor has the resources they need to thrive.

This past year has been a period of profound growth and intentional evolution for our organization. We deepened our core safety-net programs, expanded vital partnerships, and reached new milestones in how we deliver support directly to our most vulnerable residents. At the same time, we recognize that our community faces ongoing economic and social headwinds. Please do not turn away during this challenging time; your continued support and involvement is of the utmost importance.

— Mike Kapono Stancil

Key Milestones & Growth

01

Strengthening Food Security

Through innovative partnerships—including our expanded senior grocery delivery collaboration via DoorDash's Project DASH—we surpassed critical delivery milestones, ensuring 160+ homebound seniors receive consistent, nutritious meals without barriers.

02

Investing in Our Youth & Families

Our annual Family Resource Day brought together community volunteers, local leaders, and generous donors to distribute backpacks and essential school supplies to more than 500 neighbors from 122 local households, setting our children up for success heading into the school year.

Cultivating Cultural Community

We proudly celebrated the successful administrative transition of the Kapwa Cultural Center into an independent 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. This milestone honors grassroots leadership, cultural preservation, and self-determination, cementing a lasting community asset that first took root right here at DCP.

Looking Ahead

None of this vital work would be possible without the dedication of our staff, the vision of our Board of Directors, the trust of the families we serve, and the incredible generosity of our donors, municipal partners, and community allies. We especially want to extend a heartfelt thank you to our partners who have already made the conscious choice to be engaged in North County San Mateo—your proactive leadership is the bedrock of our collective impact.

As we look to the future, the Daly City Partnership remains steadfast in our mission: to foster resilient communities by connecting people to resources, honoring cultural identity, and championing our north county community at every level. Thank you for believing in our shared vision and for walking this path with us. Together, we are building a stronger, more connected community for all.

Mahalo,

New faces, every month

We see the need grow month after month. New clients walk through our doors for the first time — families, seniors and neighbors who never expected to need help. Because of you, someone is here to meet them.

Maria's story. In May 2026, Maria and her daughter were evicted from their Daly City apartment. After a separation, Maria could no longer cover the rent on her own. She kept working. She kept searching. But in one of the most expensive housing markets in the country, a paycheck wasn't enough, and the two of them moved from couch to couch with family and friends. Then she met Jorge, one of our case managers. Together they built a plan, and when a new place opened up, your support covered the deposit and first month's rent — the last barrier between Maria and a home. Today, she and her daughter have a door of their own to come home to.

Keeping 4,400

Kitchens Stocked

No neighbor should have to choose between rent and groceries.

Because of you, families picked up groceries and fresh produce at our pantry every week of the year — and seniors and neighbors with disabilities who can't make the trip got deliveries at home. Second Harvest of Silicon Valley and Peninsula Food Runners helped keep the shelves full.

A neighbor's story

Janice, 73, had been retired a few years when rising prices made it time to look for other resources. Then they drove past our pantry and saw the line. "I thought, there's gotta be something going on there."

They asked, heard we distribute food, and signed up on the spot — almost three years ago now. "These are necessities, you know? Food, and everything else."

Fatima and her children, 2026

Fatima's story

Fatima is raising three kids on her own. Work comes in short shifts — only when a friend can watch the children — and some months the rent is out of reach.

Then an eviction notice arrived, and her family was at risk of losing their home. She'd first come to DCP for diapers, so she knew where to turn. This time, her case manager sat with her through every step of an emergency rent application until it was approved.

Your gifts made that possible: her family is staying in their home, and a $200 transportation card helps her get to the work she can find.

Stress, grief, parenting, the weight of making ends meet — neighbors carried it all through our doors this year. Because of you, our team grew from 16 to 19 clinicians over the year — and to 23 today, still growing — to meet them in their own language, and every session stays confidential.

Staff spotlight: Christine Ng

Christine interned with our Mental Health team in 2022–23. After graduating from San Francisco State University’s counseling program, she returned in 2024 as a volunteer Associate MFT, working with clients across age groups, needs and service settings. Her warm, outgoing personality helped spark our connection with the Corcoran Icon Properties Group. With her 3,000 pre-licensure hours complete and her clinical exam ahead, she runs You Are Not Alone, our monthly support group for parents and caregivers of children and loved ones with special needs.

Ann · HART participant

The need

In 2024, San Mateo became the first county in the nation to declare loneliness a public health emergency. 45% of residents say they struggle with isolation and loneliness, and older adults, more than 18% of the county, are among those most at risk.*

Drop in at the Community Service Center, or join PEARLS (Program to Encourage Active, Rewarding Lives), a proven, short-term program that helps older adults ease depression and reconnect with what brings them joy.

Ann's story: from isolated to involved

Before HART, Ann spent most days alone, disconnected from the community around her. One Digital Literacy class opened the door — and there she found connection, friendship and a reason to keep showing up.

Today you'll find her at Digital Literacy, PEARLS and Project DASH — and your support keeps those doors open.

A Second Home

for kids after the bell

Homework help, summer camp and support for the whole family, in one place.

Homework help, tutoring, enrichment and summer camp keep kids learning after the bell. At Our Second Home, parents can also find language classes, information and referrals. After-school programming is DCP's flagship program — it's how DCP began.

The need

In Daly City, 1 in 10 children live below the federal poverty line, and more than 1 in 3 live in households earning less than twice that — nearly double the county rate.*

The Cheung family's story

Darren Cheung first brought Morris, Candace and Elyse to our summer program when they were small, shy and still finding their confidence. The family kept coming back — summer after summer, then winter break, art and cooking classes as the kids grew.

"The difference has been incredible," Darren says. "My children have become more confident, more talkative, and more excited about learning." Affordable programs — made possible by supporters like you — and after-school hours made it work for the family's schedule.

"It's not just a program — it feels like a community."

In-kind support: a powerful community investment

Donated food, clothing and thousands of volunteer hours make up more than half of our total revenue. Because in-kind support would overshadow every other source, it's left out of the chart above — so the mix of government and foundation grants, contracts and individual gifts is easier to see.

Percentages are rounded and may not total exactly 100%.
